

THE GOTHAM BUGLE

The News You Need—NOW!

Blair Elliot, Publisher and Harry Treski, Editor-In-Chief

Tuesday, May 29, 1934

VIGILANTE KIDNAPPERS GO WILD Irish Massacred

By Chester Wheeze

A group of crazed masked vigilantes kidnapped industrialist Desmond Cobblepot and his entire security detail. They battered all seven men brutally, tied them up, and left them imprisoned in the closets of Cobblepot's apartment for six to eight hours.

Battered by concussions, they nevertheless gave a description of a well-dressed professional man and an ugly Chinaman as the culprits.

When they were released, the bodies of 15 known Irish gangsters, including the escaped terrorist Declan O'Toole were found in and around the apartment.

INSPECTOR BRONSKI MURDERED Shoot On Sight Order Issued for Space Cop and "Sweater Vest"

By Buck Greasely

Inspector Burke Bronski of the Gotham City Police was murdered in his home on Sunday evening. A masked man, answering to the description of the vigilante known to the police as "Sweater Vest" or "The Rusty Shadow" knocked out two policemen on Bronski's front porch (as they themselves report). As Bronski's friend and visitor Mavis Drubb reports that "Sweater Vest" and the former policeman known as "Space Cop" then entered the residence and shot Bronski dead and robbed his house.

Buck Greasely Kidnapped!

By Phil Gohagan

Star reporter of the Gotham Tribune, Buck Greasely, was kidnapped and detained by unknown masked men on Monday morning. Witnesses saw his unconscious form being dragged from Cheeseball's Restaurant by two men, who may in fact be "Sweater Vest" and "Space Cop", fresh from their murder of Inspector Bronski.

Greasely was held for several hours, questioned by a third, unknown person, and released in the East End.

Inspector Burke Bronski file photograph

