

THE GOTHAM BUGLE

The News You Need—NOW!

Blair Elliot, Publisher and Harry Treski, Editor-In-Chief

Saturday January 20, 1934

Maniac Murder; Multitude at Myrtle May's!! Massacre

by Buck Greasley

A crazed, opium-soaked, Chinaman with a trick sword violently slaughtered several dozen innocent Garment Workers' Union members engaged in a peaceful picket in front of the famous Myrtle May's boutique on Friday. Screaming obscenities and various other heathen gibberish, he cut the heads off good, honest working men and even one woman—Ilda June Smolanski, a working mother of 6 and recovering stroke victim. The drugged-out fiend proceeded to bathe in her blood and threw her head into the crowd, hitting her lame nephew in the face. This rash of masked killers must be stopped!

Chinaman and his victim;

The Truck that Killed Mildred Donovan

Rest In Peace Mildred Donovan

by Buck Greasley

Fresh-faced news photographer for that great institution the Herald, Mildred Donovan died doing what she loved, photographing the news. Your humble reporter was at her side when she was killed by a runaway truck in the Fashion District on Friday, during the infamous Myrtle May Massacre. The driver had lost control of his truck, presumably overcome with shock at seeing the horrid slaughter in the street ahead. He hit Miss Donovan killing her instantly, and nearly killing me in the process. The truck crashed into a police car nearby and exploded (presumably it had a flammable cargo, ignited by the ordinance in the squad car), killing 3 policemen as well. Farewell, Mildred, let us all stop these masked creeps in your name!