

THE HERALD

Serving Gotham since 1823

Randolph Dinkley, Publisher and Skip Haversham, Editor-In-Chief

April 12, 1934

Cultists Hijack Train, Murder and Destruction Police are Baffled

by Tomkin Wallop

In a surprise turn of events, the new rail terminal in Gotham was damaged by a runaway locomotive. The train had been apparently hijacked twice, once by a group of purple-robed cultists, and a second time by a group of unknown masked men, led by the fabulous Puma Man. The masked men killed over a dozen of the cultists and decoupled the engine from the train. One of the cars proved to have been carrying a mysterious biological toxin. The city's gratitude goes out to Puma Man and his henchmen.

HEY KIDS

CHECK OUT TODAY'S COMICS SECTION!

LITTLE ORPHAN MILDRED RETURNS A LIBRARY BOOK!!!

AND A BRAND-NEW ADVENTURE
COMIC: THE PERILS OF ROACHMAN!!!

Notorious Terrorist Escapes from Prison Police are Baffled

By Skip Haversham

In a surprise turn of events, Declan O'Toole, the terrorist accused of blowing up the North Cobblepot Tower, has escaped from prison, in advance of his June trial date.

He was heard to say, days before his escape, "Dem masked boyos are all going to pay, pay in fire, burning fire, hot burning fire."

Nathan Snow's Love Nest Uncovered Church is Shocked Police are Baffled

By Lester Fudge

This enterprising reporter was contacted by some concerned private citizens who led him to a service station in Old Gotham, said to be a hideout for the All Americans gang. In a surprise turn of events, the hideout was connected by underground tunnels to the basement of St. George's Episcopal Cathedral. It was soon evident that the notorious Nathan Snow of the All Americans gang was using a well-appointed chamber underneath the cathedral as his own personal safe house and sordid love nest. Will these gangsters stop at nothing? Is there no line they won't cross?